General Info
My Schedule
Schedule
Schedule Tracks
Presenters and Chairs
Baylor AI Initatives

AI and Relationships in Workplace Communities

PASTORAL MINISTRY BUSINESS

AI, Work, and Worth: A Faith-Informed Framework for Ethical and Compliant AI in the Workplace
—Tami Nutt, Aspect43

Cognitive Modeling of Christian Communities: Developing Intelligent Agents to Address the Polarization Effects in Churches
—Eric Araújo, Calvin University

Chair: Tiffany Flood

PRESENTERS AND CHAIRS

Tami Nutt
Aspect43

Eric Araújo
Calvin University

Tiffany Flood
Baylor University

DETAILS

February 26th, 2026
12:00 pm → 1:30 pm
Baines, Second Floor, Bill Daniel Student C...

Add to my schedule

SHARE

DISCUSSION

Post

There are currently no comments.

Interested in building your own app?
Get started at guidebook.com

General Info
My Schedule
Schedule
Schedule Tracks
Presenters and Chairs
Baylor AI Initatives

Eric Araújo

Calvin University

Eric Araújo is an Associate Professor in the Computer Science Department at Calvin University. His research explores computational approaches to understanding human behavior and social dynamics, seeking to contribute meaningful insights that serve the common good through rigorous scholarship and ethical technology development. His studies investigate the spread of opinions, sentiments, and behaviors in complex systems through multiagent modeling and simulations, offering insights into social dynamics across diverse domains including politics, cooperation, health, criminology, and religion.

SESSIONS

AI and Relationships in Workplace Communities
Feb 26th, 2026 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm

SHARE

Interested in building your own app?
Get started at guidebook.com